A NEW MUSIC BOOK, ON THE
New York Musical Review.
FOR NOTHING!
We have in our press published in October, "ARAPAH ON THE CHOR BOOK," a new collection of Church Music for Singing Schools and Choirs, by Dr. Lowell Mason. Dr. Mason's last musical work, published in 1861, reached the end of its first year, of over 64,000 copies, which, we are confident, is the largest sale ever enjoyed, in its first season, by any Church Music Book by a single author. The work now in press will embrace nearly all the most useful and popular music, a complete collection of secular music, such as, as it is believed, will be of the highest interest to Choirs and Singing Schools. Its Singing School Department is more extensive and complete than in any previous work, being indeed, a complete work in itself, and forming an extensive collection of secular music, the words, as well as music, to which, are nearly all quite new. Retail price, one dollar.
We publish, also, "THE NEW YORK MUSICAL REVIEW," a fortnightly journal of sixteen quarto pages, including four pages of choice music in each number, with twelve pages of reading matter, including frequent articles from the leading musicians of the country, with all the musical news, &c., &c. Subscription, $1.00 per annum.
In view of the present hard times, and with the purpose of obtaining a wide circulation for specimen copies of Dr. Mason's new work, we are induced to make the following liberal offer, viz.: To every one sending us, before 1st November, one dollar, (the price of subscription to the Review), we will furnish the paper for a year, and also, as soon as issued, a copy of Dr. Mason's new work above mentioned, thus giving two dollars' worth for one. Those desiring the book sent by mail, must inclose twenty-four cents, to pay postage, in advance.

GALVANIZED IRON COFFINS.
THE subscribers have become agents for the patent GALVANIZED IRON COFFIN, a new article finished in the most beautiful manner and made of what has proved by years of experience to be the most imperishable of all materials.
This article in shape and outward appearance resembles a highly finished rosewood coffin. It is much less awkward in appearance, lighter, more efficient and easier handled than the cast iron coffin which have been in use for several years.

THE WAR AT HOME AND ABROAD.

The English journals are filled with painful details of suffering and distress among the manufacturing population, owing to the cessation of the supply of cotton consequent upon our civil war. The deepest gloom hangs over the land, and the extent of the calamity is so great that for once the hand of charity is paralyzed, and the means of relief found totally inadequate for an emergency that could never have been deemed possible to arise. The law of supply and demand is suspended to the utter amazement of a great commercial people, who now witness the unprecedented fact that an almost fabulous price for the common but necessary staple of cotton, fails to secure the customary supply.

This emergency, however, develops the best qualities of the workmen of England, who exhibit a spirit of silent endurance under their sufferings worthy of the highest praise. Their characteristic habits of industry, self-reliance and independence preserve them from excesses which, under the circumstances, would be certain to prevail in other European nations.

But when the English papers, as many of them do, turn aside and arraign Americans as the authors of sufferings from which they are themselves exempt, and denounce our war as causeless and absurd, they state what, in both cases, is simply untrue. It is a dreary spectacle to behold the father of a family watching the anxious and hungry look of a wife and children destitute of food. But it is also sad to witness loving wives pining from morning till night for the absent head of the family, and at night, watching with eager interest for tidings which they dread to hear. If the cottages of Merry England have lost their gladness, light, the homes of America are also filled with sorrow and mourning. If their factories are silent, our warehouses are too frequently converted into hospitals. If they have Hunger, with all its attendant evils, we have Death in every conceivable form.

As for our war being unjust or causeless, that is a subject past argument. It is sufficient for us that no flower of our country is on the battle-field. England has a name and a place among nations; the United States has yet to baptize her independence in the blood of her noblest sons. Each country has its own sorrows, and in the face of the dread realities that now confront us, rearmament and conscription are alike untimely and useless.

Gen. Hunter's Proclamation.—A special despatch to the New York Evening Post, of Saturday, says the President has decided to modify Gen. Hunter's proclamation emancipating the slaves. This step of Gen. Hunter excites a great deal of discussion, and the press generally condemns it as hasty and ill advised. The Boston Courier says "it is the act of a madman." The Philadelphia Inquirer, conceding that Gen. Hunter is an able, patriotic, and valiant soldier, thinks he lacks discretion. The N. Y. World and the Times ridicule the reason assigned for the measure, the incompatibility of slavery with martial law; and the so-called conservative papers generally express confidence that the President will at once modify the proclamation. "We wait with some anxiety to learn upon what authority Gen. Hunter acted, and what action the administration will take in the premises. In the meantime, we are not sorry that the proclamation has been issued. The circumstances are entirely different from those under which Gen. Fremont acted. The department of Gen. Hunter consists of the seceded States—Missouri had not seceded. In South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, there is no appearance of Union sentiment.—In Missouri it was otherwise. There are very good reasons for this measure at this time, and in those States, which did not exist in Missouri when the proclamation of Gen. Fremont was published. Our troops cannot occupy the Gulf States during the sickly season. Are they to be bandoned? Or are our commanders to avail themselves of an unqualified force to hold them? It may be, that no immediate beneficial results may flow from this act. But for months, we have insisted; that some such measure would ultimately become necessary; and even if modified, or entirely withdrawn, the fact that it has been done will have its influence. The Philadelphia Press says: "Hunter has done the right thing, at the right moment, in the right place, in the right way."—N. B. Standard.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS.

REMARKABLE EXECUTION WITH A STEEL PEN.—In the Redwood Library there hangs upon the wall, enclosed in a large frame, one of the most wonderful performances with a pen, which we have ever seen. It contains the headings of eighteen Newspapers and of their leading articles, and are wrought as fac-similes, including the vignettes of such as are in any way illustrated. The similitude of the copies is perfect, and it is difficult to persuade oneself that they are copies, and not the genuine papers themselves exhibited in the case to the beholder. The collection includes copies of the following papers of the year 1855: New York Tribune, Sunday Times, New York Daily Times, The True Star Spangled Banner, The New York Herald, The Home Journal, The Sun, The Flag of our Union, The Evening Mirror, Ballou's Pictorial, Spirit of the Times, The True Flag, Sunday Mercury, New York Evening Express, New York Dispatch, New York Atlas, The American Pick, and to the centre the London Pictorial. There they are to the very life. The funny illustrated title pages of the "Punch" is all there, as like as a copper plated fac-simile.

The labor, patience and skill required for this wonderful execution, can not be appreciated except by a careful study of the remarkable similitude to the originals in every, even the smallest point. On the lower marginal right hand corner are the following words which declare the Artist's name—"Executed with a Steel Pen by Egbert G. Anderson, Esq., for some time past a resident of Middletown, R. I. This remarkable specimen of Calligraphic Art was presented to the Redwood Library Association by the Artist himself, and forms a most attractive and wonderful feature of the collections that adorn the walls of the Library."

Another Lesson for John Bull.—Before Great Britain has recovered from the excitement produced by the Monitorial lesson, Brother Jonathan has furnished him with another, which will create scarcely less sensation, in the naval operations of New Orleans. The St. John (N. B.) Freeman concludes an article upon the civil war in America, with the subjoined paragraph:

"The battle of the Monitor and Merrimack was a startling lesson to Europe. The capture of New Orleans is a lesson not less important and alarming. If on the Mississippi a few vessels bound in iron chains and developed in trusses of wet hay run past strong batteries in safety, and then reduce a large city to submission with the threat of bombardment, what is the safety of St. Petersburg, or of London—what the value of Cronstadt, Opatow, Woolwich, Cherbourg, Toulon, or the batteries on the Dardanelles? This American war is indeed in many senses a revolutionary war."

PARSON BROWNLOW.—The N. Y. Commercial gives a pen and ink sketch of Parson Brownlow: "He is of about the medium height, of a spare frame, with something of the appearance of emaciation. His hair is black, smooth and rather long. His countenance is full of character. His complexion is sallow, and the face wears an air of melancholy, almost sadness, combined with a something that impresses you with the conviction that underneath that aspect of interest and habitual contemplation, sleep an indomitable purpose and an immense force of will. The mouth indicates firmness as clearly as the eyes do intelligence and concentration of thought. The gentleman's bearing is modest and his manner retiring. The casual observer would pronounce him to be preeminently a quiet man—one who would pass through the streets or walk through a crowd occupied only with his own thoughts and interfering with no one, unless first rudely accosted or assailed. No one familiar with the public life of Mr. Brownlow, or recorded in the public prints, but having seen neither pencil nor pen portrait of him, would take this Mr. Brownlow to be that Mr. Brownlow, whose fame has spread over the Union."

THE WORK OF RE-POSSESSION.—In his inaugural address, President Lincoln declared that he should proceed to re-possess the forts, arsenals and dockyards of the Federal Government, which had been seized by the rebels. He has been as good as his word, and during the past year has made gratifying progress in his patriotic work, as the following list of recaptured forts, &c., will show:

Fort Mifflin, Lower Mississippi. Fort St. Philip, Arzabal, North Rouge, La. Navy Yard, Norfolk, Va. Custom House, New Orleans, La. Besides these smaller works, like Fort Pike, Lake Pontchartrain, and others, have been retaken, and the process is still rapidly going on. We doubt if any of the old Government forts will remain in rebel hands after the close of the present month.—Boston Journal.

The Agent of the Associated Press, Mr. D. H. Craig, has accompanied a suit in Superior Court of New York to recover damages for a libel uttered by E. O. J. Smith. The libel is claimed to have been published in the Boston Daily Courier, in which the defendant charged the plaintiff with cutting the telegraph wire of the Boston and New York line, in order to give a cypher dispatch to Jacob Little the advantage time and also that Mr. Craig was assisted in cutting the wire by a woman. Damages claimed, $25,000.

NEW SUMMARY.

—Galen Clapp, a prominent citizen of Bath, Me., died suddenly on Wednesday last.

We aim not to disparage the rebel armies but our brave troops are everywhere running them down.

—The Ohio Legislature refused to pass a law allowing the troops of that State to vote while at the seat of war.

—It is said the people of New Orleans now regret that they did not prevent the destruction of property by their Generals on the approach of the Union fleet.

—Isaac Newton of Pennsylvania, whom the President has nominated as Commissioner of Agriculture under the new law, was commissioner under the old law, and simply continues his duties.

—A Washington correspondent says: "It is reported upon pretty good authority, that President Lincoln has said that he would raise a fresh army of a million of men, rather than submit to any forcible intervention."

—The people of Sweden, with a proper sense of the great services to civilization rendered by their distinguished countryman, Ericson, are having a medal struck in his honor, in reference to the Monitor affair.

—The lawyers of New York city are after one of their number, Edwin James, on the ground that he does not pay his debts. He finds a champion in the Herald, who says he is as good as any of them, and that it would be dangerous to lend him dollars to more than a dozen of the profession in that city.

—While at Fortress Monroe, the President visited the hospital, and spoke to every wounded man in the crowded ward room, where rebels and Unionists lie side by side on beds of pain. "God bless him!" said many of our wounded boys. "Amen," responded faintly but fervently, some rebel soldiers.

—The Court of County Commissioners before whom was heard the petition of the O. C. & F. R. R. in reference to locating their line of route through this city, adjourned to meet at Tammany on Friday next, May 25, where it is supposed a final decision of the petition will be made.—Fall River Press.

—Hon. Robert J. Walker thinks the result of the rebellion is to be of immense value to the country. It will give confidence at home, and command respect from abroad. Mr. Walker is firm in the opinion that amnesty to the deluded masses and exile to the leaders is the only thing that will settle the matter after the struggle of arms is over.

—Accounts from Gen. Hunter's Department represent that vast preparations were making to bombard Savannah. Our gunboats proceeded up the river and our pickets are within four miles of the city. Massive batteries mounting Parrott guns have been erected all around the city. Our troops have a portion of the Charleston and Savannah railroad in their possession.

—Ex-Governor Stewart, candidate for Congress in the St. Joseph district, Missouri, said recently: "He believed the damnable course of the secessionists had killed the institution dead in Missouri. Slaves south of the Missouri river were very scarce to find, while those north of the river were found hard to hold. The institution existed here merely in name. It was merely a skeleton in our house."

—There are now as many persons employed in the navy of the United States as there are in that of England. The personnel of the latter, excluding the 470 superintending officers of the dockyards, 10,850 established workmen, 1400 hired do., 15,000 marines, 2361 factory laborers, and 61,000 boys, amounts to 41,000. In these figures, coal heavers, firemen and stewards are included. It is estimated that we have some 30,000 persons attached to our vessels afloat.

—The St. Louis News (conservative) favors Mr. Lincoln's emancipation proposition. It remarks:

"It is such an emancipation policy as this that is growing in strength and favor every day in this State. Many of our most prominent public men, not only in St. Louis, but in the interior counties, regard it with decided approval; and there are thousands of people in what is called the pro-slavery districts who would quietly vote for it at the polls, and rejoice in the day that witnessed its triumph."

The Toronto Globe says: We confess, however, to some surprise at the blowing up of the Merrimack. We have never overrated the 'pluck' of the Southerners, but in destroying such a vessel without endeavoring at least to injure their opponents they manifested a degree of 'poltroonery' rarely if ever equaled."

GEN. BRAGG has issued an address to his soldiers, in which he alludes to the loss of New Orleans as "a slight reverse on the seaboard," talks about the mercenary invader, and the soldiers "goaded on under a tyrant's lash by desperate leaders," encourages them by the assurance that our army is away from the gunboats and heavy batteries which form his main support and reliance, and closes by telling them that they have "but to strike and destroy, and as the enemy's whole resources are concentrated here, we shall not only redeem Tennessee, Kentucky, and Missouri at one blow, but open the portals of the whole Northwest. This is the kind of touch word by which the Southern heart is fired, and the Southern masses are ignorant and degraded enough to believe such cant.—Express.

Good for North Carolina.—The New-born Progress of the 10th instant, has information from a member of the State Convention that Governor Clark, backed by that body, demanded of Jeff. Davis that Mayor Ross of Washington, N. C., who was on trial at Richmond for fidelity to the rebel cause, should be surrendered, otherwise force would be sent for his relief. The demand was complied with—Jeff. being informed at the same time that North Carolina could look after her own affairs.

They also state that, in answer to a demand of Davis that North Carolina should furnish the rebel government all the means of defense and transportation possible, Governor Clark, backed by the Convention, informed him that he had received all the aid from that quarter he could expect, and that no troops would be hereafter permitted to leave the State. Gov. C. has ordered the North Carolina troops home. Gov. Clark informed the rebels that they could use the railroads in retreating homeward, and that they would run their own rail, being interrupted by Union force at any part of the State.—Bost. Jour.

WAR NEWS.

THE EXPECTED BATTLE AT CORINTH.

New York, May 18.—The transport steamer Arago has arrived from Fortress Monroe. Also the prize ship Gondar (British) from Fort Mifflin.

A special dispatch to the Times, dated "Camp on Corinth Road, May 17," says the Memphis papers of the 14th are looking for the great battle at Corinth, with terrible interest. They estimate the National army at 80,000, and insist that it is greatly demoralized. They say they do not allow themselves to think of being defeated. Beauregard is still undoubtedly at Corinth.

A special dispatch to the Tribune, dated "Headquarters Mountain Department, Franklin, Va., via Baltimore, May 17," says: "A dispatch was received this afternoon and evening—not official, but considered trustworthy at headquarters—announcing that Princeton, the capital of Mercer county, Va., where Gen. Cox's advance was stationed, was attacked and captured yesterday by a rebel force under Humphrey Marshall. This morning the place was recaptured and the rebels defeated by Gen. Cox. No particulars received. Scouts report that the enemy in front of us have been reinforced."

DESTRUCTION OF PENNSACOLA BY THE REBELS.

FEDERAL OCCUPATION TO TAKE PLACE ON THE 12th INSTANT.

Before Corinth, May 18.—The Mobile Advertiser and Register contains the following special dispatches: Pensacola, May 10.—At 12 o'clock last night the Pensacola Navy Yard and forts were set on fire and destroyed. When the enemy discovered what was going on Fort Pickens opened a furious bombardment and kept it up during the conflagration, but without doing any damage to any one. At Pensacola all the public property except the Custom House (incapable of being burned) was moved, but all the moveable Confederate property has been saved.

The railroad track leading out of the city toward Montgomery was torn up this morning. Federal vessels with a flag of truce came up to the city to-day, demanding its surrender. Mayor Bollie refused to comply with the demand, and said all the military forces had left and had no power to oppose them. The Federal officers replied that they would occupy the city tomorrow, but that the inhabitants need not be alarmed.

THE RUMORS OF INTERVENTION.—The following is a special dispatch in the New York Evening Post of Friday: There have been a great many rumors of the proposed intervention of France and England in our affairs floating about this city for several days.

The greater part of these are the work of secessionists, who know that the rebellion is on its last legs, and who wish to bolster the falling cause. They are sending letters, I suggest, to all parts of the country. Nevertheless, there has been enough in the attitude assumed by certain foreign ministers to give plausibility to their statements. There has been some danger of inconsiderate action on the part of the French Minister, it is thought, but the recent victories of our arms at New Orleans, Norfolk, Fort Pillow and elsewhere, have poured some new light into the foreign mind.

One thing the country may rest assured of, that the government will meet all threats or tender of intervention in the most determined spirit. Friendly offers made to a sincere desire to adjust the civil trouble will be courteously considered, but any other will be summarily dismissed. It is reported upon pretty good authority, that President Lincoln has said that he would raise a fresh army of a million of men, rather than submit to any forcible intervention. If he did say so, he only anticipated the universal sentiment of the people.

Who Makes the Noise.—It has been frequently observed that the largest slaveholders in the South have not been nearly so zealous in the secession, which was undertaken for the benefit of slavery, as those whose interest in the institution is smaller. So too it appears that much of the clamor for burning crops comes from persons who neither own a bale of cotton nor a hoghead of sugar. It is easy for those who own no houses to cry out for a second Moscow. Another illustration of the same readiness to dispose of other people's affairs is given by the Civil (Maryland) Whig, in speaking of the President's emancipation project, as follows:—

"We advise the people to take the money if they can get it, for their negroes are running away as fast as they can. All the slaveholders we have heard speak of the project are in favor of it. But the miserable poor devils that never owned a negro, and never will be able to own one if they are surrounded with slavery all the days of their lives, to vary the notes of treason a little, cry out abolition whenever they hear a negro spoken of."

The Press of New Orleans.—Six daily papers have survived the "bad times" which New Orleans has gone through, viz: Picayune, Delta, True Delta, Crescent, Bulletin, and Bee. Of these, the True Delta and Bee (the latter half French and half English), have all along manifested some regard for the old Union, and strangely enough these are owned and edited by natives of the South, while all the others, more rampant upon the subject of secession, are under the control of Northern-born. The publisher of the Picayune (Hobbs), and his chief editor (Wilson) are Massachusetts men; another of the editors (Olin), is a Bostonian. Nixon, the publisher of the Crescent, is a Jerseyan. The chief editor of the Bulletin (Stephen P. Gay), is from New Hampshire. The Delta is edited by "Junius" Walker, formerly of the Cincinnati Enquirer.—Traveler.

A matter of sincere regret is, that old Hollins was mounted on the back of his roan when that other sheep went under.

Clippings.

[From the Louisville Journal.]

There is no reason in the world why the people in the rebel cities of the Mississippi should be so awfully scared at the approach of our gun and our mortar boats. Let them be quiet, and nobody will harm them. Why need they make fools of themselves?

Our armada is still doing an immense business. He travels at a prodigious rate and compresses with him a thousand cotton press power. The rebels think that all the army forces of the world are nothing to our army-steam.

As we go on beating the Confederates in naval fights, they become more and more foolishly boastful. The more Farragut we give them, the more far-ago they give us.

Mr. Roman, a New Orleans rebel, predicted in a late speech that the Federal armies would be driven out of the South in six months. Perhaps by this time Roman knows.

The great rebel army ran away from Yorktown, and then from Williamsburg, but not till after the great rebel Congress had run away from Richmond.

Sweeter, Lighter, and More Nutritious than

NATURAL KIDDER POWDER.
IMPERIAL YEAST POWDER!
A new article, which is pure, reliable and economical.

I have analyzed Samuel Kidder & Co's "Imperial Yeast Powder," manufactured by Messrs. Daniel F. White & Co., and found the base of vegetable origin to be so adjusted as to form a new and superior article for raising dough. It produces, with even ordinary flour, white, strong and perfectly wholesome bread,
and retains its power of action under exposure.
Being free from mineral salts, and dangerous metallic salts, it should be preferred to compounds, frequently sold as yeast powders.
